

Mountain Writers Series

Writing for the Stage

A Workshop with Gay Monteverde

February 5 – March 12, 2018

6:30–9:30 PM – Six Mondays

Multnomah Friends Meeting House
4312 S.E. Stark Street, Portland, OR

Writing for the Stage. This is a beginning playwriting workshop for the eager amateur, the emerging professional, or the curious writer exploring a new medium. No previous experience with playwriting necessary (although it's good if you've seen some plays). We will read and discuss plot, character, dialogue, theme, spectacle and pace, as we write and workshop scenes and scripts.

Date & Time: 6:30 – 9:30 PM, Mondays, February 5 – March 12, 2018

Enrollment: Minimum 4; maximum 12

Place: Room 23, Multnomah Friends Meeting House, 4312 SE Stark, Portland OR

Cost: $290 [Six three-hour sessions.]

Register at www.mountainwriters.org or send check payable Mountain Writers to 2804 SE 27th, #2, Portland, OR 97202.

Gay Monteverde is the author of two published plays: Harriet Tubman: An American Moses (a finalist for the American Alliance of Theater and Education's Best New Play Award) and The Arabian Nights (a finalist for the Oregon Book Award's Angus Bowmer Award for Drama). Both plays premiered in Portland, are published by Playscripts, Inc. in New York City, and have had productions in locations as far-ranging as Tasmania and Kentucky. Gay's third play, a contemporary comedy based on Pride and Prejudice, is looking for a theater company. Her fourth play is coming soon. Gay's third play was part of HART's recent Page to Stage showcase. She teaches writing at Portland Community College and Mt. Hood Community College.
